Leading the change for modern health

KNOW NURSING

Nursing is an integral part of the healthcare industry. It is a healthcare profession that provides holistic care to facilitate patients' recovery from their injury, ailment, or disease to maintain their quality of life. Nurses are vital to the healthcare industry as they play an important role in preventing illness, caring for sick individuals, monitoring their recovery process and helping them get back on their feet.

Nurses possess a wide range of skills as they deal with the physical, social, and emotional needs of patients. At times, they assist the doctor in providing recommendations on the treatment or medication required based on the patient's condition.

At Nilai University, the nursing programmes have a perfect balance of theoretical knowledge and practical skills that help students excel as a professional healthcare provider in the field of nursing.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS SAY

“I wanted to be in an exciting profession where things are happening. I really did not want to be desk-bound, which being an accountant would have entailed. I was keen to be involved in the healing of patients up close instead of visiting each patient for a few minutes each day. As a nurse, we are closely involved in the healing and recovery process of patients. Let me just say this, there is no better feeling in the world as when you help another human being recover.”

Michelle Foh Ming Yee,
Bachelor of Science (Hons) in Nursing

“I wanted to be in direct contact with patients and to really understand their needs, not just be a doctor who visits them during rounds. After many placements at various hospitals, I know that patients are usually more comfortable approaching a nurse with questions than the physician. Nurses are a vital aspect of a patient’s recovery.”

Melissa Lee Kar Yan,
Bachelor of Science (Hons) in Nursing

“I had applied to Suruhanjaya Perkhidmatan Awam for a scholarship to do nursing and I was overjoyed when it was approved. Not only did I get to fulfil my ambition to be a nurse, but I am also assured of a job in the government hospital after graduation! It really feels good to think I will be able to make a positive contribution to society as a nurse.”

Nuraini Mohd Nasir,
Diploma in Nursing
